

ABOUT AAO/A+DEN

The Association of Architecture Organizations (AAO) and Architecture + Design Education Network (A+DEN) is dedicated to promoting excellence in the architecture center and design education communities. AAO and A+DEN serve this sector by cultivating a common core of knowledge, ethics, and sense of purpose among its individual and organizational members. Through the use of meetings and conferences, reports and field surveys, online discussion groups and other resources, we seek to increase and broaden knowledge among members on matters pertaining to the operation and establishment of architecture centers, public engagement of architecture, infrastructure, and planning, and K-12 design education programming.

Through its activities and resources, AAO and A+DEN encourage cooperation among institutions, educators, and the general public. We believe the sharing of knowledge and experiences is the best strategy to expand public dialogue about architecture, and realize greater public awareness and appreciation of this emerging sector.

WHY JOIN?

1. Meet funders and global leaders of both established and emerging groups in our field.
2. Gain access to a broad network of professionals—individuals who are focused on the art and science of engaging the community in architectural appreciation, design education, and advocacy for the built environment.
3. Receive complimentary and/or discounted registration at AAO and A+DEN events and conferences.
4. Have your organization promoted within and beyond the international network through inclusion of your company name and logo on the AAO and A+DEN websites and related publications.
5. Receive complimentary subscription to monthly e-newsletters and opportunities to post your own organizational news to AAO and A+DEN websites.
